These drawings depict the designs to be used on this project. While they are an accurate representation of the concept, quality, appearance, size and dimensions of the proposal, the actual final designs may vary slightly and may be altered from time to time during the execution of the project as new materials and details emerge reflecting minor changes in users needs, choices and preferences.

Area shown for living unit is established on the basis of national BOMA standards. Area is calculated as bounded by the exterior face of exterior wall, centerline of abutting walls and corridor face of corridor walls.
